NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, MAY 24, 1905.

PRESIDENT PHIL DWYER, of the Brooklyn Jockey Charles Brooklyn Jockey Club, is a hope-ful man. Speaking of the increase in the price of admission to his track, the first to introduce a new schedule, the Brooklyn Jockey Club will never lag when the right step in advance has been pointed out. With a good card, and the Brooklyn Handicap for Thursday, I hardly believe Gravesend will miss any of her old patrons on account of this increase in prices. They all are It's a great thing be a good sports-

The one set of men who will indorse President Dwyer's remarks are the bookmakers. Under the new order of things they will be permitted to ply their trade as usual without the payment of about $800,000. This $380,000 will be paid by the "good sportamen."

Williams was patient and walked, but was forced out on Anderson's grounder to O'Leav. Yeager filed to Hickman. Anderson stole second. Cooley got under Conroy's fly. NO RUNS. Puttmann then went in to pitch for New York. A foul tip split Kleinow's finger, and McGuire had to go in as catcher. Kitson filed to Dougherty. Schaeffer plunked a single to centre. Cooley popped out to McGuire. Schaeffer was caught napping at first. NO RUNS.

Third Inning. McGuire walked. Puttmann struck out. Dougherty's line drive hit in Schaeffer's mit and a quick throw to first doubled up McGuire. NO RUNS. Yeager's quick fielding retired McIntyre, but Crawford followed with a two-sacker to left. Coughlin rolled a grounder to Conroy, who landed Crawford as he was running to third. Yeager made a beautiful running catch of Hickman's line drive. NO RUNS.

Fourth Inning.

Keeler was out on a hot bounder to Kitson. Fults walked. Fults stole second. He then sneaked to third while Williams was called out on strikes. Anderson shot a single into left and Fults trotted hom. Anderson for the second time stole second. Yeager walked. Conrov was out on a grounder to Schaeffer. ONE RNU.
Williams attended to O'Leary. Sultivan walked. Yeager's throw got Kitson at first. Schaeffer filed to Williams. NO RUNS.

Fifth Inning.

McGuire filed to McIntyre. Puttmann was out on a dump in front of the plate. Dougherty singled over second. Keeler followed with a hit to right, Dougherty taking third. Keeler stole second. Fults iaid-down a bunt and beat it out while Dougherty scored. Fults stole second: Williams hit to O'Leary, who threw with to first allowing Keeler and Fults to score, and Williams to take second. Anderson was apparently safe at first by a good step, but Kelly called him out. Griffith holowed holy murder, and while continuing to kick, was ordered off the field. THREE RUNS.

Cooley was called out at first on a throw from Williams, and this time Detroit yelled murder. This Kelley is the limit. McIntyre filed to Dougherty, and Williams attended to Crawford, NO RUNS.

Hickman then to early to Bowerman. Seymour followed with an assy five to Browne. NO RUNS.

Donlin opened with a foolish fly that against centre field fence for a pair of sacks, scoring Crawford and Coughlin. O'Leary hit to Yeager, who threw the fever and popped a still easier one which Sohled got. McGann hit safely to left, The slowness of Corcoran was responsible for his reaching second base.

Second inning.

Second Inning. Gilbert's muft of Sebring's grounder allowed the runner to reach first. Barry's sacrifice bunt advanced Sebring to second. Steinfeldt was nailed at first by Devlin's quick handling of a hard grounder. Kelley ingloriously fanned. NO RUNS.

McGraw was applauded as he went to the coaching line in the Gries's second haif. He neglected to say "Hey" to anybody. The "Evangelist" broke his home run spell by popping up to Steinfeldt. Devlin followed with a weak grounder, which Steinfeldt nabbed easily. Gilbert nailed another grounder to Corcoran and died. NO RUNS.

Third inning.

Schlei fanned and looked foolish as he stepped away. Harper followed with an easy one which the "Bangelist" got under. Bridewell was nalled on Bowerman's splendid handling of a bunt. NO RUNS.

Bowerman was out on an easy grounder, which Corcoran nailed. Wiltse beat the air thrice. Donlin again filed to his favorite Sebring. NO RUNS. Third inning.

RUNS.

Corooran lifted to left, and Mertes, a ster a long run, dropped the ball. When I the shouting was over he got to second. Wiltse, afretching twice his length, nailed Seymour's pop bunt, sending Corcoran to third. Sebring batted out a long one, and made the chrouit before a Donlin returned the ball. Corcoran came in ahead of him. Wiltse fielded Barry's baby bunt. Steinfeldt drew a pass. Kelly reached first on a decepted bunt that Wiltse reached for, but missed. Schlei's grounder was fielded by Dahlen and Kelly was nailed at second. TWO RUNS.

Browne pop filed to Corcoran, who tied himself in a knot to make the catch. Capt. McGann sent a grounder to Bridawell, but was nailed. Mertes housed easily to Harper, who reached first before the runner. NO RUNS.

Harper fanned. Bridowell was out on Devlin's fine fielding of a fast grounder. Corcoran beat out an infield hit. Corcoran stole second, the "Evangelist" dropping Bowerman's fine throw. Seymour was thrown out by Gilbert. NO RUNS.

The "Evangelist" was nailed by Fourth Inning.
